

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

EDITOR'S PREFACE.

THE Report of the Historical Manuscripts Commission for 1888 succeeded in drawing public attention to the valuable collection of Records in the possession of the Municipality of Reading.

These Records were carefully calendared by Rev. W. D. Macray, M.A., F.S.A., of the Bodleian Library, and I cannot do better than quote the description of them given in the Report by that eminent scholar. (Eleventh Report, Appendix, Part vii.) :—

"The muniments preserved in the Town Hall at Reading are both ancient and numerous. The earliest documents belong to the reign of Henry III.; the Accounts begin imperfectly at the close of that of Edward I., and from the time of Edward III. are continued with some degree of regularity; while from the year 1431 there are but few breaks in the Register of the Acts of the Mayor and Burgesses, which thence dates its commencement.

"Many of the Account-rolls, as well as other documents, have unfortunately been at some time exposed to damp, which has greatly injured them, and left some in a state almost too tender for handling; but the whole collection is now well cared for. In 1866 a Schedule was made, by the care of a then assistant Town Clerk, Mr. S. Preston, of the number and nature of the various parcels and volumes; and this (which was very well drawn up) affords a ready means for general reference.

"Some of the Registers and Miscellaneous papers were used by Rev. C. Coates, when he was engaged upon his History of Reading, published in 1802; but any future writer on the antiquities of the place would find much of local interest, hitherto unused, in the earliest Title-deeds, which it did not fall within my province to calendar, but which deserve full description. The series of Letters and Notices during the time that Reading was a centre of military movements during the Civil War will be found to repay examination."

It may be here stated that, for facility of reference to the original documents, I have subjoined at the end of this Preface a Schedule of all the Records belonging to the Corporation of Reading, following the numeration adopted by Mr. Macray in his Report ; but, for the present purpose, it will be more convenient to arrange the documents under three Divisions, classified as follows under Subject-matter :—

(i) DIARY OF THE CORPORATION, being the Minutes of the official proceedings of the Mayor and Burgesses from A.D. 1431 to the present day.

(ii) DOCUMENTARY ANNALS : consisting of Charters, Deeds, Original Letters, &c., bearing on the political History of the Town, from the reign of Henry III. downwards.

(iii) ACCOUNT ROLLS : Regulations, and Miscellaneous Papers, connected with Trade, Commerce, and Social life.

Of these three groups of Documents, the Corporation Diary stands foremost in general interest, being in fact a continuous Record of events, written by those who made and fashioned the History of the Town. With one missing link, which has been elsewhere supplied, it forms a complete narrative of the Transactions of the Mayor and Burgesses from the middle of the xvth century to the present day. If somewhat meagre in details at the period of the xvth and early part of the xvith century, when the Corporation was overshadowed by the jurisdiction of the Abbot of Reading, and simply represented the governing body of the great Merchant Guild, it becomes rich in materials after the Dissolution of the Abbey, and when the respective Charters of Henry VIII., in 1542, and of Queen Elizabeth in 1562, had conferred full executive authority on the Municipality.

It is proposed in the present work to publish that portion of the Corporation Diary, which extends from its commencement in the tenth year of Henry VI., A.D. 1431, to the accession of the House of Hanover in 1714.

VOLUME I. embraces the period (1431—1602), from Henry VI. to Queen Elizabeth, and is contained in one MS. book, of which a description is given below.

VOLUME II. embraces the period (1603—1629), from the accession of the House of Stuart to the fifth year of the reign of Charles I.

VOLUME III., and other succeeding Volumes, will bring down the Diary to the accession of the House of Hanover in 1714 A.D.

The portion of the Diary contained in Volume I. of this work comprises a period of 172 years, viz. 1431 to 1602 A.D., and forms the contents of the first MS. book under that head in the Corporation archives. Although this MS. book is the earliest portion of the Diary extant, it is more than probable that a still earlier portion once existed, dating, at the latest, from the Charter granted to the Merchant Guild by Henry III. in 1253. This conjecture receives some support from the abrupt style in which the Diary begins in 1431. It is certain, moreover, that an almost unbroken descent of Mayors may be traced from Title Deeds and other sources (see Documentary Annals) from John Akatur in 1318, and possibly before that date; thus clearly indicating the continuity of Office in the Corporation of the Guild from a much earlier period than the commencement of the Diary. Nor must the fact be forgotten that in the frequent disputes with the Abbot on the subject of jurisdiction, the Evidences of the Guild were produced in the Law-courts, and might have been lost or mislaid.

We have, however, to deal only with the first MS. book extant, and it may be as well to give a detailed description of this interesting document.

The Title on the cover, written, it may be remarked, in a modern hand, is as follows:—

“A BOOK CONTAINING VARIOUS RECORDS OF PROCEEDINGS AND MATTERS RELATING TO THE CORPORATION FROM [THE Xth YEAR OF] THE REIGN OF HENRY VI. TO THE MAYORALTY OF EDWARD BURNINGHAM, IN [THE XLIVth YEAR OF] THE REIGN OF QUEEN ELIZABETH.”

This earliest volume of the Diary (to Henry VI.—46 Elizabeth) contains 696 pages, about one eighth of the leaves being of vellum and the remainder of paper; there are 101 blank pages and about 79 half-blank.

The MS. is bound in old calf, and is now much out of repair. It measures 11½ inches by 8.

The Diary was evidently written by contemporary hands, and often by illiterate scribes, as the many grammatical errors plainly testify. The Diary does not appear to have been kept for the years 1561 to 1565, 3--7 Eliz.; but on some of these vacant places are copied extracts from Charters and other documents of various dates.

The headings are inserted in a large but late hand (of circa 33 Henry VIII.), which extend to the time of Philip and Mary.

The pagination is in a sixteenth-century hand, but the old numbers remain on the recto-pages of the first 100 leaves.

The water-mark on various leaves between pp. 1 and 570 (10 Henry VI.—29 Eliz.) is a stag springing; and on leaves between page 571 and the end, the water-mark is that of an open hand with a flower above it, indicating the manufacture of the paper to be towards the close of the xvth century.

So far by way of introduction to my materials. Let me now crave leave to say a few words as to the origin of this undertaking, and as to the share taken in it by its chief promoter.

In the year 1889, George William Palmer, Esq., M.P., then Mayor of Reading, gave his influential support to a project, submitted to him by the present Editor, that these Records, or at least the principal portion of them, should be printed with a view to their preservation, and that the undertaking should commence with the Diary of the Corporation, as forming a continuous History of the Town from 1431, and as a work of some importance to the Historical Student.

It was originally proposed to apply to the Corporation of Reading for a Grant from the Municipal Funds, as had been voted in other large Towns, in order to carry out such a costly publication as the Corporation Diary, without incurring heavy pecuniary liability. But I was relieved from the necessity of adopting this course, and also from any anxiety on the score of personal risk, by the generous action of the Mayor, who himself undertook to guarantee the outlay of transcribing and printing that Division of the Records known as the Diary of the Corporation.

The preparation of the work was accordingly entrusted to the care of the present Editor, with instructions that no pains should be spared in producing a careful and accurate reproduction of the original; and that in the period of the Diary selected for publication, the text should be published in extenso, without variations or omissions, so as to increase its usefulness as a work of reference.

The Editor has faithfully endeavoured to carry out these instructions. Considerable time and labour have been bestowed in the transcription and collation of the original Manuscript. With regard to the method of Transcription, the plan followed has been to adhere as closely as possible to the original spelling; although Orthography at that early period was not an exact science, but phonetic in character, and therefore constantly varying. It has been thought advisable, however, that words when contracted should be extended, also that the necessary punctuation should be introduced. All explanatory Notes, or various readings of the text, are given at the foot of the page. In no case is there any omission of important matter, and, with these exceptions, the printed Book may claim to be an exact copy of the original.

Notwithstanding the great care taken, some mistakes have occurred, which will be found corrected in the list of Errata on page li.

A complete Index of Subjects, Names, and Places, with a Glossary of archaic and obsolete words, will appear in the last Volume of the printed Diary.

A facsimile reproduction of page 43 in the original Manuscript has been obtained by the Collotype process, at the Clarendon Press, and will be found inserted opposite page 19.

At my earnest request, Mr. G. W. Palmer, M.P., has allowed me to place his Portrait as a frontispiece to Volume I., taken by Mr. G. Salmon, Photographic Artist, Reading. It is an appropriate reminder not only of an honoured and useful Mayoralty, but also of the fact that the townsmen of Reading are mainly indebted for this work to his enlightened public spirit.

It would be improper to close this Preface without acknowledging my obligations to those who have assisted me so efficiently in completing my task.

My respectful thanks are due, in the first place, to the present Mayor, the Worshipful John W. Martin, to the Aldermen and Members of the Town Council, for the encouragement they have given to this undertaking, and for their permission to make unreserved use of the priceless documents in their possession. To Henry Day, Esq., Town Clerk, I am more particularly indebted; I cannot speak too highly of his appreciation of the Historical treasures of which he is the official custodian, or thank him too heartily for his unfailing courtesy and ready help on all occasions.

I must also gratefully record the important aid which has been rendered me in the preparation of these pages. My thanks are especially due to my friend and Publisher, Mr. James Parker, M.A., F.G.S., one who is always ready to place his ample stores of Historical information at the service of others; and also to Mr. R. E. G. Kirk, Record Agent, Chancery Lane, London, for his assistance in the Analytical Table of Contents. The transcription of the original MS. has been made throughout by Miss A. F. Parker, an accomplished and accurate Expert, under the supervision of her father, Mr. George Parker, Senior Assistant in the Bodleian Library, who has kindly perused the sheets as they passed through the Press.

Whether or not it may be possible, at some future date, to continue the publication of these Municipal Records, and to prepare for the press a portion either of the Documentary Annals, or of the Chamberlains' Accounts, must depend in great measure upon the reception given to the Corporation Diary, and be left for our Townsmen finally to decide.

It is acknowledged on all sides that the publication of these Records of our ancient Towns confers a benefit on the whole community. They supply the data and facts which reflect the habits and customs of former ages, and thus form the only reliable materials for a true National History. I am convinced that an acquaintance with the past History of Reading will not only be interesting to the Antiquary, or the Genealogist, but will contribute to throw much light on the growth of our Municipal Institutions, on the progress of Trade, the development of Manufacturing Industry, and also on the Political Events of the times which they illustrate.

For these reasons it is satisfactory to know that a start has at last been made in this direction, and that the Records of Reading will be made accessible for the first time to all classes of our fellow Townsmen.

May their publication tend to induce the Englishmen of this generation to follow their forefathers in the love of wise and free self-government! May we strive according to our fuller opportunities, as they did according to their narrow ones, to fulfil the duty which every man owes to God and to the State!

J. M. GUILDING.

the Clothiers there, as in other places, have [been] accustomed heretofore to have dye howses of their owne, and to dye suche wooles as they do conuerte into clothe, being a thinge incident to the trade of clothinge; we doe see no cause why, at this tyme, the said Clothiers shoulde be inhibited to doe that which usuallye, heretofore, hath bine permitted unto them. Neverthelesse, because the Dyers, that did firste addresse themselves unto us by complainte, doe alleage that the Clothiers do not onely dye woole to be converted for them selves into clothe, but for others, and so make a benefitte of the trade of dyenge, to the prejudice of the Dyers. These shalbe therefore to let yowe understand that we thinke it meete and convenient that the Clothiers may use the dyeng of woule in suche sorte as heretofore hath by them bine accustomed to be made by themselves into clothe, but that they shall not use the dyinge of wolle for others, to make their benefitte onely of dyinge. And that, in like sorte, they shall not dye clothes readye made into any coloure, for that the dyinge of suche clothes apperteineth to the facultye of Dyers. And this order we thinke fitt and indifferent to be observed for the one and the other. So fare yowe well. From the Courte at Richmond the xiiijth of December, 1589.
